Your Team of High Beings of the Light

Our passage through incarnation becomes easier and filled with purpose when we establish a reliable communication channel with our team of Divine Guides and helpers.

Who is on your Support Team?

Where Does the Guidance Come From? Your Higher Self is the first source of Divine guidance, wisdom, healing energy and protection. The incarnated soul is connected to the Higher Self through a communication channel. This channel can be developed through prayers, meditation, and by remembering your true nature (“I am the Soul”).

Secondly, every incarnated person has a specifically assigned Divine support team, consisting of spirit guides and angels.

Spirit guides are beings who have had a human experience. These highly developed, spiritually evolved beings help you go through your incarnation on Earth.

Divine Angels are powerful, friendly beings belonging to the non-human line of evolution. Their purpose is to help a person in different areas of life. They supply us with various nurturing energies and serve as a link between the incarnated soul and the Creator.

Each person has several spiritual guides and guardian angels.

There are guides of the inner circle and guides of the outer circle.

The inner-circle guides can be permanent or temporary. The former are with us every minute of our lives, and the latter (the so-called specialist guides) can be with us during certain stages, depending on the need of the moment.

The number of inner-circle guides is +/- 6, according to information obtained during Akashic Records reading.

Guides of the outer circle oversee groups of souls and are responsible for more global issues, for example, for ensuring the synchronization of events, for organizing karmic lessons, etc.

Note: I describe your guides in the order they came forward to introduce themselves during reading.

Consciousness Vibration Rate

Range (for human beings)

3 – ‘I am the body / the brain. God / spiritual realities do not exist.’

4 – ‘I want to know more about spirituality’; ‘I am working on my spiritual development’; ‘I am the soul, I know this intellectually’. This level of consciousness is normal for incarnated souls.

5.0-5.4 – the soul obtains self-education and would not say or self-purification and further spiritual development.

5.5-5.9 – these people become true spiritual teachers and mystics

6 – ascended master

7 and above – even more spiritually evolved beings

Our spiritual support team mostly consists of spiritual guides and angelic beings with the predominant consciousness vibration rate between 5.6 and 6.9.

Spiritual guides with the higher level of consciousness (7.0 and above) are also on our team. However, it is difficult to relate to them or work with them because they function on very high levels of consciousness where ordinary person's thought does not reach. They are removed from the practical workings of our third dimensional world so they are not the practical guides to work with.

Soul Origination and the predominant Ray are the cues to help you to know their qualities better.

Also, it seems most of the guides are not individual beings but a collective being working under one domain. They prefer to talk about themselves as “we”.

How to Call Your Guides?

It is very simple. Calm your mind and emotions with the help of several breaths and say mentally or softly aloud:

“My healing angels, be with me!” or “My spiritual guide, be with me!”

Getting to Know Them

You may take one week for each guide to establish a working contact with him/her and to know them better.
